7.3 Upon receipt of the goods, the Buyer is immediately obliged to inspect the goods, and particularly check the number of pieces of goods and their completeness. If defects are detected, the Buyer is obliged to notify the Seller without undue delay, but no later than 10 working days after receiving the goods. The Buyer is obliged to document any defects found in a suitable manner and to send this documentation to the Seller together with the goods and the defect notification. The Buyer is simultaneously obliged to choose a claim for defective performance.

7.4 If the "Repair upon identified costs" form of repair is chosen for turbocharger goods, the goods must first be dismantled, and a diagnosis must be carried out. The Buyer is then sent a repair offer by the Seller to his electronic address, which the Buyer is entitled to refuse.

7.5 In the event that the Buyer refuses the repair according to the Article 7.5 of the Terms and Conditions, the Seller shall send the goods back to the Buyer in dismantled condition for safety reasons. Reassembly of the turbocharger goods shall be carried out by the Seller only at the Buyer's express request, at a price according to the Seller's current price list.

7.8 Similarly, the Buyer is obliged to proceed in the case of a hidden defect that appears on the goods within the statutory period.

7.9 The Seller shall inform the Buyer of the claimed defect assessment and the claim as soon as possible, taking the complexity of the claimed defect and the Seller's capabilities into account.

7.10 The Seller is obliged to settle the complaint within 30 days from the receipt of the goods from the Buyer. The Seller reserves the right to exceed this time limit in justified cases. The Seller is obliged to notify the Buyer of this procedure at the Buyer's electronic address.

7.11 The Buyer shall bear the costs of any defect claim that is not admitted by the Seller, unless the Seller and the Buyer agree otherwise.

7.12 The Seller provides a quality guarantee for new turbochargers and turbochargers sold by exchange for a period of 24 months from the Buyer receiving the goods. For repaired turbochargers, the Seller provides a quality guarantee for a period of 6 months from the Buyer receiving the goods unless otherwise individually agreed with the Buyer.

7.13 This warranty shall not apply, and the Seller shall not assume responsibility for defects and damages resulting from operation of the goods, functional characteristics and damages caused by the goods improper, as well as damages caused by force majeure and the goods improper handling.

7.14 The Seller's liability to the Buyer is limited to the Buyer's direct damages up to a maximum of the price of the goods in question. The liability limitation shall not apply in the event of death or injury caused by the Seller's negligence. The Seller shall not be liable for any indirect, special, incidental or consequential damages (e.g., loss of profit or loss of revenue, loss of use, rework, repair, production costs, recall costs, damage to reputation or loss of customers, etc.).
